

NEMEXIA 2.0: DAILY REWARDS

Every player in Nemexia has the chance to receive a precious free reward for every single day spent in the game. And luck is not needed here, because all you need to do is just to log in and claim it – simple and easy. You can always keep an eye on your weekly progress; just click on the new icon right next to your Admiral:

DAY 1

You can get the resources that your main planet gains for a few minutes, which can be very helpful when building up the planet's basic infrastructure in the beginning of the game. Remember that the resource income depends mostly on your mines, so the bonus will keep getting better and better depending on the current development of your Empire.

DAY 2

Same rules as the one above, but here you can get twice as much resources! Don't miss the opportunity!

DAY 3

The more buildings your planet has, the more Ozone points it loses every day, so it's always a good idea to take care of the planet's ecological conditions. A nice pack of Ozone points could be really useful at such a moment.

DAY 4

For the fourth day in a row, you can get 60 minutes of the resource income of your main planet right away. Don't forget that the higher the level of your Metal mines, Mineral extractors and Gas refineries are – the higher bonus you will get!

DAY 5

A special reward for a special player. Everyone who has reached Day 5 can get a free Premium account subscription for a few hours. Remember that the bonuses of this feature are designed in a way so they don't disturb the main gameplay and the game balance, but it really helps the ones who use it to save some time and to improve their gameplay experience.

DAY 6

On the sixth day, a small pack of Credits is waiting for you, just one click away. You can use your Credits to purchase special Premium options which, depending on your strategy, can make your game a lot easier and more fun.

DAY 7

If you successfully reach the seventh day, you can get the best reward of them all. Once every seven days in a row, you can choose a reward from the previous six days and take its bonus doubled! The deal is great and the choice is entirely yours. Now, have a nice week!
