

MANAGORE

The calendar is now showing the year 2012 in the world of Managore. On January 23-rd the year of the fifth sign in the Chinese zodiacal calendar – the Dragon – begins. Not just any dragon – but the Water Dragon.

Many myths and legends about the Water Dragon are told throughout the land. It is believed that the ancient symbol of strength and power is hidden somewhere in the realm. And that is no mere fairy-tale, you can see is for yourself.

In contrast with the European mythological understanding and everything we know about dragons from Managore, the water dragon is now considered a symbol of happiness and success. And that is what the Water Dragon is like in the game.

The Black Water Dragon resides in the depths of the dark waters of the realm. There he keeps safe, the secrets of wisdom and longevity. It is the Dragon's year and he has decided to share his experience with you. The question is – do you want it? Venture in the dark waters and be generously rewarded by the Black Water Dragon.

But keep in mind that the Dragon will not share his knowledge with just anyone. He must be sure that you have been chosen. You know that you are, but you must prove it to the Dragon. To do so you must equip at least 1 of the amulets of Yin and Yang, travel to the dark waters and face the challenges that the Black Water Dragon has prepared for you. If you successfully pass the trial you will be rewarded with a sure chance of Enchanting (100%), a lot of Battle points and a large amount of resources in the form of Remains. Don't miss this excellent opportunity.
